Brief Report of programme:

Shri Anand College, Pathardi organized the Soft-Skills Development Programme from 23rd September 2022 to 3rd October 2022. The programme was inaugurated by Prin Dr S B Pawar, and all the faculties acted as resource persons. Dr Bhausaheb Ghorpade Coordinator of the programme expressed basic information on soft skills and how they can be a useful to in globalization for youth to become successful professional in their personal life. The main objective of this programme was to introduce the importance and practical use of soft-skills. The details of the programme are given in the above table.

The soft skill development programs are aimed to identify the areas of concerns in Good manners, SWOC Analysis, Stress management, Yoga and Meditation, Goal setting and time Management, Leadership Development, Communication skills, Interview skills, Presentation skills, Personality Development, Group discussions Computer Awareness, Attitude and Creativity etc.

Prof Dattaram Bangar delivered a very good lecture on "Stress Management". He said that today everybody is under stress from different issues. For happy life management everyone should take positive stress to achieve goals in life. Prof Suryakant Kalokhe inspired the students through Yoga and motivation. He told them that the key to success is to believe in self and work hard to achieve a concrete goal in life. A talk on "Positive Attitude" was conducted by Dr. Bhausaheb Ghorpade and Prof Dinkar Jaybhay conducted a session on "Mock Interview". Dr J D Barshile guided the students on "Interview Techniques" and also explained how to participate in "Group Discussion". During the programme different competitions were held. The winners of the competitions were felicitated at the hands of Principal Dr. Sheshrao Pawar and the Chief Guests

The Soft Skill program make student able not only in subject oriented skills but also to cultivate a proper attitude. By the program the personal attributes, personality traits, and communication abilities are enhanced by arranging various lectures on various topics. All the faculties from various fields have guided and shared their experiences and success stories during talk and this motivated students for their overall development. This has been a phenomenal success where students have greatly benefited from the course.

All the participants were actively involved in PowerPoint presentations and Group discussions. All The participants gave their feedback and shared their experiences. The first, second and third participants were awarded by trophy and prizes. The management members are satisfied about organization of programme. The soft skill committee members Dr Muktar Shaikh, Suryakant Kalokhe, Prin Dr Sheshrao Pawar, all teaching and non teaching staff contributed well for the success of programme.

The certificate course in “Soft Skill Development” is also conducted by online mode. The link for the same is:

CERTIFICATE COURSE ON COMPUTING SKILLS AND HANDS ON TRAINING IN ANALYTICAL INSTRUMENTATION

Year: 2022-23

The certificate course on “Computing skills and Hands on Training in Analytical Instrumentation”, started for the college students during the academic year 2018-2019. It provides the key knowledge base and laboratory resources to prepare students for careers as professionals in the field of Chemistry and particularly in Analytical instruments handling enabling them to interface not only with various branches of Chemistry (Organic, Inorganic, Physical, Biological, Industrial, Environmental, Pharmaceuticals etc.) but also with the related fields, and for professional courses and are as of research including medical, forensic, food, agriculture, dental, law, intellectual property, business programs etc. Characterization and analytical techniques are methods used to identify, isolate or quantify chemicals or materials, or to characterize their physical properties. They include spectroscopy, electrochemical analysis, and other measurements used in Chemistry and material science. The instrumentation in quality control laboratories plays a vital role for fast processing and analysis of testing samples. Thus, skilled personnel who are trained for handling sophisticated instruments is important aspect in the characterizations. Using quality equipment there is enhancement in quality and minimization of errors in testing of samples, which helps to produce timeline results. Our training module assures hands-on theoretical, practical and conceptual basic on the instruments for thorough understanding of analytical instruments and methods. This training course aims to give practical demonstration on instruments, calibration and method development so the participant can achieve the analytical and interpretative skills which are critical for working in the laboratory. There is a challenge before universities to fulfill the demand of skilled human resources as the education given in academic institutions may not be fully acquainted with needs of the today’s growing industries. We, the academic institutions working under the umbrella of university do not have that much academic flexibility in designing the syllabi of our courses. Hence, in order to cater the requirements of chemical industries and analytical laboratories there is utmost need to design and develop a course which will provide practical knowledge and skills of handling sophisticated instruments to the students.

Department of Chemistry has designed the certificate course on “Sophisticated Analytical Instrument Handling” especially for UG, PG and Research students. This course will provide breakthrough knowledge of instrumentation, handling and applications of the high cost instruments viz. FT-IR with ATR attachment, UV-Visible Spectrophotometer with integrating sphere, Potentiostat/Galvanostat electrochemical instrument, Rotary evaporator, Constant temperate bath with chiller for crystal growth.

International Woman's Day

Number of beneficiaries: 35

Date : 8 March 2023

Where women are worshiped i.e. respected, the deities live happily. On the contrary, where women are not respected, all the work becomes fruitless, asserted the Principal Dr. Sheshrao Pawar. International Women's Day was celebrated at Shri Anand College Pathardi. In this program Dr. Pawar in his presidential address highlighted "Women - yesterday, today and tomorrow". Even yesterday the woman was struggling, today she seems to be struggling. But the nature of this conflict has changed. Today she struggles to get an education, get a job and survive in today's competitive age. Today's woman is seen working in various fields. He further said that it would not be wrong to say 'Sky is the limit'. Right from the kitchen to space, all fields are open to her and she is successfully foraying into these fields. From Kalpana Chawla, Sunita Williams to President Draupadi Murmu, many examples can be given. On this occasion, he hoped that all the students of his college should brighten their career by taking inspiration from his work. He also informed about the activities being done for women empowerment in the college.

As the chief guest for this program Mrs. Jyoti Sharma, Director, Tirupati Balaji Co-operative Bank Pathardi, was present. In his speech, he told the students that women should encourage women. While working, no task is small or big, if you put your heart into it, that work will be appreciated. Troubles keep coming in life, but we have to overcome them and move on. While working in a bank, he dreamed of starting a bank himself and realized it. Today she is recognized as a successful entrepreneur in a town like Pathardi. She said that this journey was definitely not easy for me, but with the help of everyone I made it this far. If you want to achieve your goal in life, never give up, Jyoti gave valuable advice to the students.

Every year, Women's Day is celebrated with a theme, the United Nations theme for 2023 is "DigitalAll: Using Research and Technology for Gender Equality". Warli Painting Workshop

Number of beneficiaries: 58

Date: 08/04/2023

"When the COVID pandemic forced people to stay at home, it was natural to feel depressed. But it gave me ample time to pursue my hobby and I resumed the Warli painting I learned in school with renewed vigour," asserts Mrs. Priyanka Jadhav, who is carrying on the legacy of Warli painting.

A one-day workshop on "Warli Painting - A Cultural Heritage" was concluded at Shri Anand College. In this, Mrs. Priyanka Jadhav guided all the students of the college on how to do Warli painting, how to draw pictures of people, animals, birds, musical instruments, nature, etc. She said that a person should cultivate at least one hobby in life. Hobby brings positivity in a person's behavior. Warli painting is an art that increases concentration of mind. This art is a typical painting style of Warli, a tribal tribe living in Dahanu, Palghar area of Maharashtra. This painting is an integral part of their life. Shapes, lines, triangles, squares, circles of daily life are easily and freely used by these people in painting. They draw pictures of religious rituals, gods and goddesses, various ceremonies etc. on the basis of natural resources. The walls of the huts are painted with red ocher to draw pictures. Gum mixed with rice flour is painted on it by brushing a bamboo stick with white paint. Today in the fashion world of yesteryear Warli painting is used to design bags, frames, showpieces, sarees, dresses etc.

All the students who participated in the workshop enjoyed learning the Warli painting.
